PRESS RELEASE

Australia, 2025

Environ Skin Care's unwavering dedication to scientific advancements in professional skincare has once again been recognised on the global stage, securing three esteemed accolades at the 2025 Aesthetic Everything® Aesthetic and Cosmetic Medicine Awards in the USA. These latest recognitions highlight the pioneering contributions of Dr Des Fernandes, whose revolutionary approach to skincare has transformed the industry and set new standards for excellence.

Environ's cutting-edge technologies were awarded top honours, with Environ Cool Peel® Technology and Environ Electro-Sonic Ionzyme® DF Technology earning first place in the "Best Medical Peels" and "Best in Class Professional Treatment Machine" categories, respectively. Additionally, Environ solidified its reputation as an industry leader by securing the highly coveted "Top Medical Skin Care Line" award.

The recognition of Cool Peel® Technology is a testament to Dr Fernandes' vision of intelligent skincare. Unlike traditional peels that rely on aggressive exfoliation, Environ's non-invasive Cool Peel® Technology works in synergy with the skin's natural processes, offering a scientifically advanced solution for refining and rejuvenating the complexion.

Similarly, Environ Electro-Sonic Ionzyme® DF Technology, another brainchild of Dr Des Fernandes, has redefined professional skincare treatments. As the world's first technology to combine low-frequency Sonophoresis and pulsed

Iontophoresis, it enhances the delivery of essential skincare ingredients, making a lasting impact on skin health and overall vitality.

For over three decades, Dr Des Fernandes has challenged conventional skincare wisdom, pioneering groundbreaking concepts that continue to shape the industry. His commitment to scientific excellence and innovative problem-solving has earned Environ a place among the most respected skincare brands in the world.

The Aesthetic Everything® Awards, with over 1 million subscribers globally, remain a hallmark of industry recognition. Since 2008, they have celebrated professionals, brands, and innovations that define the future of aesthetics and cosmetic medicine.

Reflecting on these latest achievements, Environ Group Chairman Mark Carstens shared: "These awards are a tribute to the genius of Dr Des Fernandes. His relentless pursuit of innovation and commitment to advancing professional skincare have made Environ a beacon of excellence worldwide. We are honoured to see his contributions continuously recognised."

Dr Des Fernandes, Co-Founder & Scientific Director, remarked: "From the outset, my goal has always been to advance skincare through science. When I first introduced these technologies, they were met with scepticism, but today they are industry standards. These awards reaffirm the importance of innovation in skincare and inspire us to keep pushing boundaries for the benefit of skin health."

ABOUT ENVIRON SKIN CARE

Environ is a globally renowned Professional Skin Care brand, built on a foundation of science, beauty, and care. The brand believes that skin has a life of its own and that vitamin A is essential to maintaining its health and radiance. This philosophy drives Environ's ongoing pursuit of scientific excellence, ensuring that each product is developed with the highest standards of efficacy and innovation.

Founded in 1990, Environ revolutionised the skincare industry with the introduction of vitamin A in high doses to combat environmental damage, pollution, and stress. Recognised as one of the world's leading plastic surgeons, Dr Fernandes pioneered this breakthrough approach, which has since become the cornerstone of the Environ skincare philosophy.

Under great leadership, the brand has expanded its portfolio to include over 140 products, available in more than 70 countries worldwide. The unique Vitamin STEP-UP SYSTEM®, a hallmark of Environ's range, gradually acclimates skin to increasing levels of vitamin A and other essential nutrients, ensuring optimal skin health without irritation. This science-backed approach is why Environ products are exclusively recommended by trained Skincare Professionals.
